June 1 Is Date Set by Commission for R. R. Lights at Crossings

Public Service Commission issues Specifications for Warning Lights To be Installed at Railroad Crossings in City.

PETITION DENIED

Van Gonsic Line Upheld by Commission in Kingston-Creek Locks Route.

Albany, Feb. 8.—The New York Central Railroad has been ordered by the Public Service Commission to install electric lights on the gate arms of gates protecting the Broadway, Smith, Ten Broeck, Foxhall, Gage and Flatbush avenue crossings in the city of Kingston.

The order requires the installation and operation of the lights not later than June 1, 1938, and states that there shall be not less than four lights equipped with 25 watt lamps and red roundels of not less than 5 1/2 inches in diameter and the lights are to be lighted at all times when gate arms at each crossing are in horizontal position and between horizontal and 75 degrees above the horizontal. The lights are to be located on the gate arms in such manner that one light shall be in the center of each traffic lane of the street on each side of the grade crossings.

The order resulted from a proceeding brought by an association of Kingston after an accident had occurred at the Broadway crossing when a fire truck collided with a train. The complaint alleged that when gates are lowered they cannot be easily seen and asked for additional signals on the gate arms.

Justification Indicated
The testimony indicated that there was justification for the complaint about the lamps now in use on the crossing gates in Kingston, there being only one light on each side of the tracks located at or near the center of the street. These lights are not as brilliant as the lights on the station crossing at Middletown and there is reason to believe that under certain conditions they might be mistaken for a tail light on a vehicle. There was merit in the contention that the crossing gates should be provided with more effective lights to warn traffic of their location.

Allowed No Passengers

A petition to remove a restriction prohibiting the carrying of passengers between Eddyville and Kingston from the certificate authorizing operation of a bus line between Creek Locks and Kingston in Ulster county, has been denied by the Public Service Commission.

The Kingston-Creek Locks route is now operated by William J. Deyo and Florence M. Jacquin and the condition against carrying passengers between Kingston and Eddyville was inserted to protect the operations of Van Gonsic Brothers from what was regarded as unfair competition. The Van Gonsic route is between Kingston and New Paltz and is identical with that of the petitioners' route as far as the distance between Eddyville and Kingston is concerned.

The purpose of the present application is to enable the petitioners to carry passengers between Eddyville and Kingston and from and to the New Salem section. It was held that the Van Gonsic line was first in the field and entitled to protection and that there is no reason to change the original determination made in the matter.

Would Ban Sale of Fruit on Sabbath

The Farm Bureau has been acquiring proprietors of roadside stands, particularly those who make a specialty of fruit, of the provisions of a bill introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Francis J. McCaffrey of New York City.

The McCaffrey bill, introduced January 18 and referred to the Committee on Codes, is entitled "An act to amend the penal law in relation to observing the day of the Sabbath." The feature of special interest to the roadside stand owners is the fact that under the proposed bill sale or delivery of fruit on the Sabbath would be forbidden.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Feb. 9 (AP).—The position of the treasury February 9: Receipts, $53,872,561.37; balance, $40,177,944.16; total, $94,050,505.53; customs, $2,935,158,395.23; customs receipts for the month, $6,006,054.82; receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,667,742,356.78; expenditures, $4,559,687,236.82; including $1,225,687,643.44 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $831,595,280.05. Gross debt, $27,532,744,550.92, an increase of $4,638,554.11 over the previous day. Gold assets, $12,755,363,249.60, including $1,225,325,255.38 of inactive gold.

Attend Scout Anniversary

Attending the services in St. James M. E. Church last Sunday for the opening of the 28th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America were, left to right, the Rev. A. G. Carroll, chaplain; Scout Executive William Wright; Prof. McCluskey, headmaster of the Scarborough School; Theron Culver, who presided, and Eugene Freer, who introduced the speakers.

Increased Fees Asked For Sport Permits at Federation Meeting

State Conservation Director Adams Says Increased Fees Solve Needs

Addressing the annual gathering of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday evening, William C. Adams, director of fish and game for the conservation department of the state of New York, told the hunters and fishermen that many people criticized the expenditure of money for conservation work on the theory that this money might be spent for "hospital costs" for those ill. Mr. Adams said that if more people took advantage of the natural resources of the state and got out in the open and enjoyed the woods and streams there would be less need for "hospital costs."

Advocating an increased fee for hunting and fishing as well as trapping Mr. Adams said that it was the endeavor of the department to spend every dollar of the present revenue to replace game and fish taken from the fields and streams, but he said the work was hampered by restricted funds. Giving dollar for dollar, he said, the department had worked upon a scientific basis to conserve funds and make the present funds go as far as possible in an endeavor to replace fish and game which is annually taken from the streams and forests. Only through scientific study and reduction of costs had it been possible to stretch the available funds and do the work which has been carried on. As one remedy for the limited means he advocated an increase in the license fee. He advocated a separate license for hunting and fishing for those who desired to do only one and also a separate license to trap. For those who desire to hunt and fish, he said, a combination license should be provided.

Cites Connecticut
In support of his statement he cited Connecticut where a resident fishing license costs $3.35, a hunting license $3.35 or a combination hunting and fishing license can be secured for $5.35. For what the state of New York gives for $2.25 he said he was not advocating the Connecticut tariff by any means but he cited the figures as a comparison and told the sportsmen that with additional revenue the state could do much more toward restoring better hunting and fishing.

As to what the hunter received for his money he said that statistics showed that out of every 10 hunters for deer one got a deer.

Crop Bill Repeal Seen

Washington, Feb. 9 (AP).—Amid confident predictions of Democratic leaders that the House would approve the crop control bill, Rep. Short (R-Mo.) declared today that proponents would be demanding its repeal in two years.

"This bill is going to do more to destroy the Democratic party and bring the Republicans back into power than anything else," said Short. "That's the only comforting thing in this whole mess."

Short was among a score of Republicans—and some Democrats—who criticized the complicated legislation before the final vote, expected about 2 p. m., eastern standard time.

These opponents objected to

Japanese Armies Poised at 6 Points On East War Map

Shanghai, Feb. 9 (AP).—Japanese armies were poised at six points on the Far East map today for a giant campaign to crush Chiang Kai-shek's legions and swallow the fertile heart of eastern China.

The magnitude of the campaign which has been in the making since the first shot was fired seven months ago became apparent through new military movements.

Japanese military headquarters disclosed the zero hour was approaching in a communique which said:

"The troops, with rearranged positions and with morale growing stronger, are impatient for further operations."

The Japanese grand objective was to bottle up 400,000 Chinese troops along the Lunghai railway and conquer the corridor which has kept them from piecing together the Japanese occupied areas in North China and the Yangtze river valley.

For weeks the Japanese have edged into position for the offensive in a series of victories attributed by the army to "the prestige and virtues of the emperor and the loyalty and valor of Japanese forces."

Cheer for Chinese

But Chinese, facing a six-way attack on the corridor some 300 miles long and 50 to 200 miles wide, found cheer in these developments.

Their troops at the south central fringe of the corridor have kept Japanese south of the Hwai river; persistent guerrilla attacks behind Japanese lines have hampered Nippon's movement of reinforcements and supplies. China's air force has grown; a steady stream of planes and war materials has reached central China from the south.

The Lunghai Railway runs from Haichow, on the Yellow Sea, 375 miles north of Shanghai, through corn, bean and wheat fields to Sian, Shensi province capital 600 miles to the west. Inland 125 miles it crosses the Tansui Railway at Sachow. At Chengchow, 300 miles from the coast, it crosses the Peiping-Hankow Railway. Midway between these points is Kweichow.

The Japanese columns were aimed at the southern border of the Lunghai corridor and four were in position on the north. Most of the Chinese force of 400,000 was said to be in the eastern half of the corridor.

School Census Not Authorized

Superintendent B. C. Van Ingen said today that his attention had been called to the fact that a man was making a house to house call in the city stating he was taking a school census for the Board of Education, when, as a matter of fact no such census has been authorized by the board.

According to Superintendent Van Ingen when the first man obtains the names and addresses of the members of a family his call is followed up a day or so later by another man who endeavors to sell the family a set of books.

Found Not Guilty

A decision of the city court has recently been filed in the case of The People vs. Nicholas Schwartz, a matter which was tried before City Judge Culliton on December 22. Mr. Schwartz was arrested on a charge of assault, third degree, on complaint of his mother-in-law, Fannie Deutch, of Hasbrouck avenue. On a former trial Mr. Schwartz had been convicted and sentenced to six months in the county jail. Elmer H. Nathan appeared for Mr. Schwartz and took an appeal from the conviction and new trial was granted. On the retrial of the action in city court the charge was dismissed and Mr. Schwartz was found not guilty of the charge.

20 Per Cent Increase Is Asked in Revised Armament for France

Fighting Services Seek 1,000 New War Planes, Better Naval Bases, and Military Road in Algeria.

TWO BATTLESHIPS

Immediate Construction of Two New Sea Fighters Sought in Increase.

Paris, Feb. 9 (AP).—France's already vast armaments budget has been revised to provide for 1,000 new fighting planes this year, strengthened French African naval bases, and the start of a military highway across Algeria to Italian Libya's frontier, sources close to the fighting services said today.

Defense Minister Edouard Daladier will ask a 20 per cent increase in 1938 armaments spending, these sources said.

Such an increase would be 4,000,000,000 francs (about $123,330,000) above the 22,000,000,000 francs (about $733,333,333) already approved by parliament.

The additional expenditure would make possible the 1,000 planes, immediate construction of two 33,000-ton battleships, naval base construction, and increased mechanization of the army.

Chamber deputies awaited Daladier's presentation of the program before today's joint meeting of chamber army, navy and air committees with the prediction that enabling bills would be presented before the end of the week.

Began in 1835

Completion of a new naval base at Mers-el-Behir, on the Bay of Oran, Algeria, would be hastened under Daladier's plans. Work was begun in 1935 at a cost of 275,000,000 francs (about $9,166,666).

The new base would complete a triangle of French bases, with Bizerta and Toulon in the Mediterranean. Bizerta, in Tunisia, is only 150 miles from Sicily and less than an hour by air from the Italian airbase bases and is considered vulnerable in the event of trouble with Italy.

Construction of a naval base at Agadir on the Atlantic coast of Morocco also would be started, it was said, for use in case French shipping was forced to take the cape route to the Orient if an enemy controlled the Mediterranean in war time.

Daladier and former Air Minister Pierre Cot declared in recent chamber debate that France might have to fight most of her share of any new war in Africa.

Lake Indictments Dismissed After Civil Settlements

Two indictments charging George C. Lake, Napanoch Institution guard, with criminal negligence in the operation of a car resulting in death were dismissed by County Judge Frederick G. Traver Tuesday on motion of Leroy Lounsberry.

Mr. Lounsberry, 39, filed with the court two affidavits requesting that since settlement of civil actions brought by members of the family had been effected that the indictment be dismissed.

One affidavit was by Irving Schnookler, administrator of the estate of Minnie Schnookler, who was fatally injured by the Lake car on April 26 last, was submitted to the court and a similar affidavit of Joseph Platt, relative to an action growing out of the death of Rose Platt on the same date, was offered.

These affidavits were to the effect that following the bringing of civil actions against Mr. Lake to recover money for negligence a settlement had been made in each case. By payment of a substantial sum of money to the Schnookler estate, and by like action on January 17 the Platt action was settled and the Surrogate's court has approved such settlements.

Borrowed Money

The affidavits stated that since the accident and for eight months Mr. Lake had been suspended from his job as guard and that he had borrowed the money to make the settlements. No further good could be done by continuing the criminal actions, the affidavits stated. It was also admitted in the affidavits that Lake bore a good reputation in the community where he held the respect of his fellow townspeople and it was asked that the charges be dropped.

Asks Dismissal

Mr. Lounsberry asked the district attorney to consent to a dismissal and Mr. Murray said that under the circumstances he could do nothing else although he realized that the charge against Lake had been a serious one and that the act with which he was charged with having committed was of a very serious nature. Mr. Murray said, however, that with the complaining witnesses asking for a dismissal he would have to consent. He told the court that he understood that Lake had "practically" been dismissed from the charge.

Brown Would Die With Swing Tuning in Ears

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP).—In the death-house at Sing Sing, Charles J. Brown, 39, negro, of Ellenville, N. Y., wants to walk to the electric chair to the hot throbs of swing music.

He may get his bizarre final request, Warden Lewis L. Lawes said today, although ordinarily the bleak corridors of "Murderers' Row" are silent on the day of an execution.

Lawes said that, according to custom, Brown, whose execution is set for February 24, would spend his last 24 hours in a pre-execution cell entirely apart from the death house with its radio equipment.

"However, if he wants some music, we can give him a portable phonograph in his pre-execution room," the warden said.

The condemned man was convicted of robbing and murdering Isadore Handelman and his wife, in Ellenville, and then setting their home afire in the vain hope of concealing his crime.

Trial to End

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP).—Trial of Councilman George E. Reilly, indicted on a felony charge in a city affairs inquiry, was expected to end late today. Reilly was indicted with 16 others last December. He is charged with fraudulently receiving city pay as a WPA supervisor under the name of "James Malone."

Capone Cracks in Prison

San Francisco, Feb. 9 (AP).—Reports were current today that Al Capone, under observation in the hospital ward at Alcatraz Island Federal Prison, might be transferred to the Federal Hospital for Insane criminals at Springfield, Mo.

The rumor persisted that the Chicago gangster, serving time for income tax law violation, was suffering from paresis, a condition which brings about destruction of the brain cells.

Dr. Edward Twitchell, consulting psychiatrist for Alcatraz, who admitted yesterday he had visited Capone on a special call Sunday, observed:

"Whether Capone has paresis or anything else has it, it now is a curable condition. Malarial treat-

American Labor Party Leader Declares Agricultural Commission Report Nothing But a 'Whitewash.'

VOUCHERS GONE

Asks About Destroyed Vouchers of $385,114 of Dairymen's League Employees.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP).—American Labor party assemblymen joined upstate legislators today to demand a new investigation of milk distributing companies and establishment of "yardstick" plants to determine delivery costs.

This development followed a more thorough study of a state-sanctioned audit of milk dealers' books showing it cost 14 New York city dealers an average five and a half cents to deliver a quart of milk.

Nathaniel M. Minkoff, leader of the Assembly A. L. P. bloc, described the audit and supplementary report by state agriculture Commissioner Holton V. Noyes as "nothing more or less than a 'whitewash' of the huge milk distributors who comprise the all-powerful milk trust."

"If there is any doubt in anyone's mind the disclosures of concealed vouchers should put it to rest," he added, referring to a part of the audit saying that vouchers amounting to $385,114 for expenses and other payments to employees of the Dairymen's League were missing from the league's files. The company explained, the audit said, that the vouchers were destroyed after the annual audit of the league's books.

Minkoff reiterated the laborers' stand supporting "yardstick" plants, principally consumer-cooperative associations.

Senator Rhoda Gox Graves, Republican lawmaker from heavy dairy producing St. Lawrence county, said "I am not at all satisfied with the report."

"I think that a complete, more thorough, investigation of the whole question of profits and spread should be made."

She voiced the sentiment of many other legislators who declined to be quoted but who emphasized they thought the audit "entirely inadequate."

Attorney General John J. Bennett is preparing a report on the investigation of milk dealers' books and transactions conducted by his department the past several months.

Ulster Resort Film is Shown

Through the courtesy of the Central Hudson Corporation publicity department, members and guests at Rotary in the Governor Clinton hotel this noontime enjoyed a half hour reel of colored motion picture film depicting the Hudson Valley as a resort section of distinctive appeal to summer vacationists.

In offering the film, Arthur Colman, manager of the local Central Hudson office, stated that another film was also being shown to audiences outside the Hudson Valley in an effort to attract people here during the vacation months.

The picture shown at Rotary scanned the entire Hudson Valley and showed this part of the state to be of exceptional interest to tourists and vacationists. The historical significance of the valley, its many picturesque spots of beauty and its multitude of lakes, mountains and resort houses were all a part of the film. The pictures also showed several effective shots of Ulster County's famed apple blossoms in bloom. Other points of interest pictured were the Ashokan reservoir, Lake Mohawk, Rosendale, the Hudson River and several panoramic views of the Catskills.

TWO BOYS ACCUSED OF ROBBERY PLUMBING CO.

Tuesday evening it was reported that the plumbing store of D. H. Kurtz at Highland had been entered and $114 in cash taken from the cash register. Entrance had been gained through a back door. The theft took place some time between 5 and 6 o'clock and Sergeant Huise and Corporal Mahoney were notified.

The officers started to work on the investigation and within a couple of hours took into custody two boys, one 11 and the other 13 years old. The lads were questioned at length about the matter and finally the troopers were able to get a story.

Following the questioning of the two lads practically all of the money was recovered, except a small sum the lads had spent.

Because of the youth of the two lads the matter will come up before Judge Traver in Children's court. They were not placed under arrest but were held pending a hearing in court.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Feb. 9.—Boy Scout Troop, No. 63, will present an entertainment at 8 o'clock Friday evening, February 11, at Colange Hall. A play will be given by a cast of talented young ladies of the community under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Weidner. The Scout troop will reproduce a typical mountain camping scene, also exhibit a collection of articles made by the members. There also will be shown a large group of snapshots, principally mountain scenes taken during the past two years by Charles H. Weidner and Donald Bishop. The price of admission is moderate and there will be refreshments on sale following the program. The entire net proceeds will be for the purchase of needed equipment by the local troop.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Hays were here from Long Island on Monday, calling at their Watson Hollow farm, formerly the well-known Seymour estate.

"The Seven in Scripture" was the sermon subject at the Baptist Church by Captain William Bender Sunday. The meeting was well attended. There will be service next Sunday as usual at 10:30.

Mrs. Blanche Rodriguez of Watson Hollow road was given a birthday party Saturday. Assessor John Davis and mother-in-law, Mrs. Beecher of Krumville, called on Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Every at Traver Hollow Sunday.

Some years back Martin Eckert slipped on a banana peel on Wall street in Kingston and sustained a broken leg. Thursday afternoon during the freezing rain, Mr. Eckert fell heavily while walking along the ice-coated Watson Hollow road in the pines near Camp Rojalo. This fall resulted in a broken left arm and dislocated shoulder. Mr. Eckert was subsequently removed to a Kingston hospital where his injuries were attended and Sunday he returned home. He is expected to do as well as can be expected at this writing.

Mrs. Helen Tweedy of Kingston was a visitor here Sunday. Mrs. Louisa Van Kleeck of Brodhead had a generous quantity of firewood sawed Monday. Cornelia Davis returned to Cobleskill Sunday evening after spending the week-end with her family at West Shokan Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Avery of Maple Dell Farm left early Saturday for a week's trip to Cuba, Algheny county, and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Crawford and family of Olive Bridge spent the week-end in New York city.

Judge and Mrs. Lester S. Davis entertained Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ledge at dinner Sunday evening. Don Bishop and E. C. Davis were engaged Friday and Saturday sawing firewood. William Bender, James Burgher and Reese Smith assisted.

Mrs. Bertha Thompson and son, Robert, of New Jersey, also the granddaughter, Little Miss Arlene Geyer, spent the week-end at the Main street family residence with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Whipple.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney have returned home from a week's trip to New York city. Albert, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harrison is ill with a cold.

The West Shokan Ladies' Aid Society is sponsoring a St. Valentine's Day oyster and variety supper at the Baptist church Monday February 14. The Aid refrained from holding a pre-election supper last fall, and it is anticipated that the public will respond with a pleasingly large attendance.

E. C. Davis and Donald Bishop sawed up their seasonal supply of firewood Friday and Saturday. William Bender and James Burgher gave generously of their capable assistance. Reese Smith also was employed.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Feb. 9.—Following is the program to be given in the Reformed Church Hall on Friday at 8 p. m. This entertainment is given by the members of the choir. All members of the church, their families and their friends, are cordially invited. Children must be accompanied by their parents. A silver offering will be taken during the intermission and no other charge will be made. Refreshments will be served. The cast for "The Comical Country Cousins" is as follows: Cousin Hattie, Mrs. Ed. Houghtaling; Cousin Lavinia, Mrs. Harry Newton; Aunt Ophelia, Mrs. A. E. Ericson; Cousin Sukey, Roberta Houghtaling; Cousin Mollie, Mrs. Scott Vining; Cousin Jane, Lester Ferguson; Cousin Della, Scott Vining; Cousin Sarah, Floyd Ellsworth; Cousin Cecelia, Warren Ferguson; Cousin Rode, Doris Everett; Cousin Merle, Mary Tracy Jordan; Ma Jinnie, Mary Polhemus; Tony, Betty Walker; Clarabelle, Wilma Lavas.

The Workers' Conference will be held at the Methodist Episcopal parlors at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. The discussion of "Worship in the Sunday Church School" will be continued. The Dorcas Society will hold a card party in the Reformed Church Hall on Thursday evening, February 17.

Public Welfare Conference
A two day conference of the New York State Association of Public Welfare Officials, members of which are city, county and other welfare officers, gets underway Thursday in Albany. Arthur H. Myers, assistant administrator of the New York State Works Progress Administration, will read a statement prepared by Lester W. Hercox, State WPA head, entitled "WPA's present program and probable future developments" at the Friday morning session in the Ten Eyck Hotel.

Mrs. Elliott Gets Bus Certificate

Albany, Feb. 9 (Special)—The Public Service Commission has authorized the transfer of a certificate for the operation of a bus route between Highland Landing and Gardiner, Ulster county, to Mrs. Hattie Mae Elliott, widow of Harry Elliott to whom the certificate was originally granted in 1921. Mrs. Elliott has conducted the operation of the route since her husband's death in 1934. A restriction prohibiting the carrying of passengers between Highland Landing and Tilson avenue was cancelled as it was originally inserted to protect the New Paltz, Highland and Poughkeepsie Traction Company which discontinued operating in 1936. An amendment authorizing operation over the Mid-Hudson Bridge was also cancelled as it has not been exercised in more than two years.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Ice Cream!
The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, starchy, coarse or rich foods or when you use laxatives or any purgative—your stomach pumps out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes time to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief from pain and gas in 5 minutes and on the package proves it. Ask for Bell's for Indigestion.

Since First Of Year 69 Scarlet Fever Cases Here

Since the first of January there have been 69 cases of scarlet fever reported in Kingston, according to Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, in submitting a report on the situation in Kingston to the members of the Board of Health Tuesday evening. Of that number 53 cases were reported in January and 16 cases so far this month.

Dr. Sanford said that 31 of the cases had not been attended by a physician but had been found by the school nurses in visiting at the homes of children from school.

The epidemic, according to the health officer, was not of sufficient proportion to take any drastic action such as closing the schools. It was the opinion of the board, however, that parents with children would do well to keep the children out of crowds while there are so many cases of scarlet fever prevalent in the city.

During January there were 47 births and 54 deaths reported in the city, while the infant mortality rate was 13.1. In January of 1937 the infant mortality rate was 35.7.

EXCELSIOR HOSE PLAN CARD PARTY THURSDAY

This evening the Ladies' Auxiliary of Excelsior Hose Company will hold a meeting at the engine house to complete plans for the big public card party to be held in the fire house on Hurley avenue on Thursday evening. Games will commence at 8:30 o'clock and refreshments will be served.

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN CHURCH FAMILY SUPPERS

Following a custom established years ago the first of a series of church family suppers and study hours will be held Thursday evening in the chapel of the Rondout Presbyterian Church. Following the supper Rabbi Herbert Bloom of Temple Emanuel has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on current events.

Scores of features for home-makers are announced by the New York state college of home economics for Farm and Home Week, February 14 to 19. The program includes lectures, demonstrations, and exhibits relating to family life, textiles and clothing, foods and nutrition, household arts, household management, marketing, home-made products, hospitality, war and peace, fiction, and music.

Increased Fees Asked For Permits

This deer alone was worth $25 as meat and by adding up the fish and game taken each year by sportsmen and figuring the worth solely "in the pan" for food they received much more than the value of their license besides the sport of the catch. He asked the sportsmen whether or not they did not consider this "selling our natural resources at bankrupt prices" and asked how long it could continue.

Of the work which has been accomplished the past few years he spoke of the protection which black bear are getting now and he predicted that this would shortly result in the finest bear hunting the state has ever known. He called attention to the protection of fish and game now by law from sale in public market. Until recently many fish and much game could be slaughtered by the hundreds and sold in open market. Great northern pike can still be speared and shot in Lake Champlain. Wall-eye pike can be taken without limit from Oneida Lake through the ice and sold. He spoke of the protection which stopped the taking of tons of lake trout from Lake George for the market and said much had been done but there was still more to do to preserve the natural resources of the state. Mr. Adams said that the department was striving to give the sportsmen more for their dollar and an accounting system had been installed to guarantee each division its own allocation of the money which the sportsmen pay. None of the money spent to restock the fields and streams comes from the taxpayer but all from the sportsmen through licenses.

Speaking of the reclassification of the game laws which has just been completed, he said no changes were being made. There had been a revision and consolidation of the law so a sportsman need not be a "Philadelphia Lawyer" to interpret the meaning. This reclassification will go to the legislature for approval and he asked the sportsmen to petition their legislative representatives. Mr. Adams spoke of the ridiculous requirements which a man must do now when he has shot a deer. He said to stand in a blinding rain on a mountain trail several miles from help and make out four tags to be attached one to each quarter of the carcass and then drag the carcass through the woods and brush several miles to the open and expect the tags to be intact was next to impossible. Yet if the tags were not attached immediately after the shot the hunter must feel like a burglar so long as he had the game in his possession untaxed.

Defends Scientific Work

Mr. Adams defended the scientific work of the department by telling the sportsmen that through scientific research it had been able to save much money. By finding a food which cost less than previous, by discovering cures for various fish and game diseases and by controlling disease in fish and game it was now possible to raise more fish and game with the same funds. A study of transportation of fish to the streams from the hatcheries had resulted in a lowering of cost and a better delivery of the fish to the planting beds. Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman presented Mr. Adams to the members after telling of the Apple Blossom Festival. Mr. Adams said that after listening to the rugged remarks of Assemblyman William Chandler, of Sullivan county, and the optimistic remarks of Mayor Heiselman he felt sure that New York state would soon be "annexing the State of New Jersey." Mr. Adams said a song should be written, "When It's Apple Blossom Time in Ulster County." The best regards of Commissioner Lithgow Osborne were brought by Mr. Adams who said the press of business at this time prevented Mr. Osborne from being present personally.

Mr. Adams prior to coming to the New York Conservation Department seven years ago was connected for many years with the Massachusetts Conservation Department.

About 75 Attend

The banquet was attended by about 75 sportsmen from the various member clubs of the Federation. President Nelson B. Bol of Woodstock, presided, and after a roll call, interspersed with songs under the leadership of Paul Zucca and later music by the Woodstock Hill Billy Band. Mr. Bol presented the various speakers and also held election of officers for the ensuing year. On recommendation of the nominating committee, as reported by Chairman Ed Huben, A. Starr Phelps of the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Club of Ellenville was elected president. Mr. Phelps is superintendent of construction for the Ellenville Light Company. Frank Schonger, of Rondout Valley Rod and Gun Club of Honesdale, was elected vice president. John Dunlop, of the Isaak Walton League of Ellenville, was named secretary-treasurer.

A report of the distribution of fish and game in the county was given by Nelson W. Snyder of Kingston and then Mr. Bol presented Summer Cowden, "who is responsible for the organization of the Federation." It was Mr. Cowden who devised the plan for a county federation and through his efforts and those of Charles Finch Ulster county organized the first federation in the state. Now there are over 40 such federations.

Mr. Cowden is honorary president of the Ulster County Federation and holds the position of superintendent of fish culture of the department.

Mr. Cowden spoke of the formation of the federation eight years ago and thanked the members for his election as honorary president. He said the reputation of the Ulster County Federation was statewide and the department received reports from time to time from the federation and "we know you are going strong."

Assemblyman William Chandler of Sullivan county was presented and expressed his friendly feeling toward Ulster county federation. He said when he was appointed one of a committee to draft a constitution for a Sullivan county organization he simply borrowed the Ulster County Federation constitution and adopted it in his own county. Mr. Chandler advocated the move of cooperation. If anything was wanted he said by consolidation and "group formation" much could be accomplished.

He said the needs of his own county were similar to those of Ulster county and he pledged his support to any measure which the sportsmen might desire which would be of mutual benefit to the two counties. It could not be expected that Ulster and Sullivan could do everything it wanted from the department, but he said he knew from contact with the conservation department that it would go a long way with them when possible. Both counties had the unique problem of many city people coming up to fish and hunt and it took much replacement to restock the streams and fields from this taking by city people and he said it was up to the two counties to bring this unique problem to the attention of the conservation department so that the two counties could get back a proportionate share of the distributions of fish and game in accordance with the taking. He pledged his support in this work.

Mayor Heiselman extended his greetings. He said he hoped the federation would continue to come to Kingston and meet and he thanked the federation members for their success in bringing to Kingston next December the New York State Conservation Council. This will bring 300 to 400 sportsmen here.

Bringing thousands of people to Ulster county to see the apple blossoms and festival in the spring would cause them to return again to enjoy our beautiful mountains and streams later on, he said. He asked support. Mayor Heiselman said like the sportsmen of the county a Federation should be formed by Ulster, Sullivan, Green and Delaware counties to bring to the attention of the people the beauties of the section.

Arthur Davis, one of the "fathers of the federation" was introduced and made a few brief but snappy remarks which amused the diners. Nelson W. Snyder spoke on the approval of the reclassification of the game laws which had been given by the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association and said there was but one exception. It was felt a Game Warden should start out at a salary of $1,500 instead of $1,200.

Mr. Bol thanked the members for the decorations which had been arranged in the banquet room and Mr. Snyder extended an invitation to the sportsmen to attend a meeting of the Ulster County Association at the city hall on March 7 when Gardiner Bump will be present and speak on rearing pheasants.

Hockey Game at Strubel's Thursday

The Kingston Ice Hockey Club will hold a practice session on the ice at Strubel's Pond this evening at 8 o'clock. They plan to play the Twin Oaks Club of Newburgh at Strubel's on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The locals lost their first game with Newburgh, but expect to take them into camp tomorrow evening. The locals have won their last two starts and expect to win again.

Nine sisters with the same boss

A young woman was employed by one of our associate companies in the Bell System 19 years ago. She liked her job so much that, one by one, her eight sisters joined her. Today all nine sisters are at work in the same department.

There are about 150,000 women in the Bell System. Their average length of service is more than 10 years. Although slightly fewer in numbers, the men average 15 years of service.

Despite mechanical developments and improvements in the telephone art, America would not be leading the world in telephone service if it were not for the skill, energy and loyalty of this army of men and women who, in the last analysis, are the Bell System. New York Telephone Company.

GETTING OUT OF CHINA.

Americans learn with relief that more of our armed forces are being withdrawn from China.
 Late there have been 4,000
 there, representing the army, navy and marine corps. With the departure of the fifteenth infantry from Tientsin next month, and the 1,100 marines sent to China last summer, our troops there will be reduced more than half. The army men are all going. Only marines, our "policemen of the sea," will be left, scattered thinly in Peiping, Tien-sin, Shanghai and a few other important places.

The pulling of danger-spots in China with American soldiers is more of an old American custom than many of us realize. The infantry company at Tientsin has been there ever since the overthrow of the Manchukuo dynasty in 1912. The personnel has changed, but the unit remained.

The marines are trained to such work as protecting American citizens and preserving order in foreign places during troublous times.
 Their quiet courage and self control and shrewd handling of difficult situations are well known. But they make a thin, red-and-white-and-blue line of heroes in a land of 450,000,000 people when a cold-blooded foreign army like Japan's is shooting things up. Our people at home would like to see all of them withdrawn. But that is difficult as long as so many of our civilian citizens insist on remaining there.

ARGUMENTATION

These fierce arguments about economic and governmental problems are usually interesting but seldom conclusive. They hold the gallery but "don't get anywhere."
 And perhaps that is because they don't start anywhere. In such matters, particularly, there is need of Voltaire's old rule: "Gentlemen, let us define our terms."
 What do the disputants mean by "capitalism," "socialism," "communist," "democracy," "the American system," and all the other isms and shibboleths with which our ears are dinned. If they will define such words clearly, then the discussion may proceed intelligently and logically.

Yet logical discussion is seldom possible even when the meaning of words is clarified. For then it is necessary to state our premises and proceed step by step to our conclusions, according to rules established thousands of years ago.
 And we often find, if we analyze the argument, that the debaters who talked most about "logic" seem to know least about it.
 Usually they have not studied this difficult art, and do not understand the laws of thought and language upon which sound reasoning must be based. It is mostly a muddle, in which the logical person is cried down and the loudest or most fluent talker seems to win.

GOOD DRIVERS

Motorists often complain about the recklessness of taxi drivers, but if all drivers made as good safety records as the taxi men there would be a great improvement in traffic conditions. At a banquet the other day 250 cab drivers were given special awards for habitual good driving. There was one driver with seven and one-half years of taxi service and 184,000 miles of driving who had never had an accident in which he was at fault. There were a number of others who had driven five or more years without accident.

There are reasons for such records. In the first place, the men are skilled drivers and have lots of practice. They are careful because their jobs and livelihoods

 They obey the traffic rules; if they didn't they'd not be able to keep

UNINSURABLE

It is traditional that Lloyd's, the great English group of underwriters, will insure anything tangible or intangible. But that is no longer true. For some time British factories, banks, office buildings and private dwellings have not been insured against destruction in war time. Now a new rule leaves valuable goods of all kinds, in seaports and warehouses, uninsured against damage from hostile aircraft. Exports and imports may be insured only while in transit. This rule is tied to a previous agreement among underwriters not to insure property on land against war risks.

So we see what military aviation, in this supposedly civilized age, is doing to commerce and industry. The lesson is driven home by the devastation in Spain and China. Military bombing planes are the most destructive weapons yet developed, and growing more effective all the time. If our modern civilization is destroyed, it may be in this fashion.

Body of Pours

 ONE SIDED HEADACHE

When it was announced a few years ago that the clinic of a large university was willing to investigate migraine—one sided headache—by having these sufferers come into hospital to be studied, over 700 applied. This gives some idea of the great many victims of this disturbing and distressing ailment which renders the patient helpless from headache, nausea and vomiting for days at a time.

It has been found that migraine is not really a disease or single ailment but a group of symptoms due to various causes: nervous and mental strain or overwork, cystitis, intestinal upsets, constipation, poisoning from imperfect working of kidneys, thyroid and other glands.

That the liver is a factor—some lack of proper working of the liver—has long been the opinion of many physicians, including myself. It is interesting therefore to see a report from Dr. Elizabeth Franck, Berlin, recorded in the Journal of the American Medical Association. There were eight patients with migraine who were carefully observed and frequently bled. It was found that six of them had a family history of migraine. Liver and gall bladder disturbances were observed in five cases.

The working ability of the pancreas was investigated in four cases and in three of these the pancreas was not manufacturing enough pancreatic juice.

In five of the patients too much water was being held in the tissues. In all the cases there was an increase of the "urobilin bodies" of the urine which is regarded as due to liver disturbance.
 Dr. Franck suggests that auto-intoxication (self-poisoning) which begins in the liver because it does not filter out the poisons, allows the poisons to pass on to the brain, causing edema, swelling of the brain. This swelling by excess water causes the one sided headache.

It would appear that some individuals, particularly those with the inherited tendency, develop migraine because of the faulty working of some of the body processes and organs. Strain or prolonged effort—mental and physical—may be the exciting cause.
 Rest and the use of ergotamine (artificial and other remedies to stimulate certain body processes give relief in a few hours up to a few days.

Migraine

Migraine—one sided headache is one of the commonest results of allergy—sensitiveness to foods and other substances. Other allergies due to allergy are described and diet suggestions to overcome these ailments are given in Dr.
 Barton's helpful booklet entitled "Food Allergy." No. 105. You may obtain this booklet by sending Ten Cents for each copy desired to cover cost of service and handling to The Bell Library, 247

Oakland, Calif.,—Judge Chris Fox accepted with thanks the envelope a 59-year-old man handed him after the judge married him

 Inside, instead of $2, was a note: "Dear Judge—I'm short of cash, but I will remember you when the Townsend (old age pension) plan is the law of the land."

EMPIRE FOR A LADY

STORY BY ALAN LEMAY
 CHAPTER 20
 Only A Miracle

And then—Clyde came.
 The perpetual, brain-destroving beating in the jungle had died down a little, in honor of the middle of the night, and from under it now came a faint, thin signal from the shore. I stood frozen for a moment, unable to believe.

But it sounded again, drifting across the water on the breeze with an eerie distinctness. That was unmistakable. That thin, two-noted piping was from the bosom of the pipe Clyde carried.
 "Starboard watch! Into the longboat! Smartly now, smartly!"
 The bosun came stumbling to his feet. "What's the matter?
 What's up?"

"Wake those men up! Get 'em into the boat!"
 Surprise gugged him. He stammered as he uttered an order to a sleepy seaman, then stood stating as if he could not believe that the man had obeyed. After a moment, though, he went waver-ing down the deck, hunting out the rest of the men.

We piled into the long boat, and as the oars began to find themselves, I headed straight in-shore —cannon tube and all. Because of its load, the boat shipped a little water now, even in the small ripples of the bay. Here on the surface I thought I could place the whistle as it came again. But for a long time it did not come, until I was beginning to doubt my own ears.

Then at last, as my steering wavered, it sounded once more, distinct and clear.
 Something clicked through the swing of the oars as the men heard that. It wasn't a change in stroke, but more as if a deeper pulse had suddenly begun to beat, driving us forward. I swung the nose of the boat to port.

Every man in the boat must have known the chances we were taking. Especially loaded as we were. That small, Clyde's own whistle though it might be easily missed, had been the baiting of a trap. I got hold of one of the six shooters, stuck it in the front of my belt, and strained my eyes for the first sign of a prau hiding in the black bar of shadow on the beach.

There is no surf in Balingong bay. I put her in as close as I dared, then turned, and began coasting the shallows.
 "Rest oars," I said at last. "I'm going ashore. Stand on and off for a little bit, and keep me in sight as long as you can. If there's any sound of something going wrong, don't try to follow me. Pull out in clear water, and get ready to make a running light back to the ship."

We were very close in to the shallows now; any moment I expected to hear the keel find the bottom. I was getting ready to step into the water when suddenly there was a splashing and beside us in the shadow, and a shape loomed waist-deep. Some of the men gave a spasmodic jerk on their oars, swinging the boat.

"Damn it, do I have to chase my own boat all night?"
 I half dragged him aboard as he floundered over the transom.
 Under my hands I felt a sticky clotting of blood.

"You're wounded, sir?"
 "Mind your own business. Starboard oars! Drive this thing back to the ship!"

Nasty Kris Cut
 FOR a while neither of us said anything. The men were pulling hard, giving the sweeps everything they lay to get off that un-godly beach. Through the sound of the oars we could hear the breathing hard, in long shaking gasps; but he got his breath at last and lost no time in laying into me.

"What is this cannon tube doing in the boat?"
 "Sir, there isn't enough water to get the Linkang over the bar.
 So I was getting ready to—I figured the best thing to do was—I was all set to—"

"All set to what?" he demanded angrily. "If you mean to tell me you were going to disobey every order I gave you, and land guns—"

"No, sir."

"Well, then, what the hell?"
 "Sir, the Avon can cross the bar.
 I was going to take the Avon."
 "Those people agreed to that?"
 "No, sir. I wasn't going to ask them."

COUNTY
Christian Endeavor
NEWS

Echoes of County Banquet
 The annual banquet of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union was held Friday evening at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, but the affair was not the success of other years. To begin with, there were only 70 Endeavorers present—a drop of almost half a hundred in the attendance. Then too, the usual spirit which accompanies these affairs seemed to be missing and the group was rather quiet. The dinner, prepared and served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, was up to the usual high standards. Prof. Edgar V. Beebe of the faculty of the New Paltz Normal School, was guest speaker. Honors for the highest attendance went to the Reformed Church of the Comforter, which sent 12. Other societies present were Fair Street Reformed, Lake Katrine, New Hurley, First Baptist, Rosendale, New Paltz, Bethany Chapel, Ponckhookie and Clintondale.

Ponckhookie Meeting
 The Ponckhookie group will hold an important business meeting on Tuesday evening, February 22, to consider plans for the future.

Valentine Party
 A Valentine party will be given by the Rosendale Endeavorers Friday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. This new group has attempted both the county union service and the county banquet, and is holding regular meetings.

Comforter Takes Honors
 For the second straight year, the Comforter Society has taken first place at the annual banquet. Last year, when the affair was held in its own church, this society was represented by almost its entire membership. Sunday evening Gordon Millum and Gordon Kent led a discussion on the merits of the Christian Endeavor movement. An interesting review was made of the achieve-ments and short-comings of the own group by several of the members, and it was agreed that the strong feature of entire organiza-tion was the spirit of cooperation shown in most of the activities of the Comforter Church. Friday evening the monthly business meeting and social will be held in the meeting room, beginning at 8 o'clock. Rehearsals for the annual play, "Pop Goes the Weasel," are being held twice each week, and the dates for this presentation are March 5 and 9.

First Dutch Party
 Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor of the First Reformed Church celebrated the 57th anniversary of the founding of the church organization. There were 40 members present at a dinner held at the home of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union, as the guest speaker. Mr. Tow-son told of the organization of the First Dutch Christian Endeavor Society on February 23, 1880, under the pastorate of the late Rev. John G. Van Slyke, D. D. A large birthday cake sporting 57 candles, graced the speaker's table. Next week the society will present the play, "The Shadow of a Great Man," with the following members taking part: William Hawk, Elizabeth Turner, Marion Steketee, John Snyder, John St. John, Caroline McCree, Caroline Little, Edward Miel, William Murray and John Steketee.

Lake Katrine News
 The regular meeting of the Lake Katrine Society was held at the home of Helen Reindel February 4. There were 12 members present to hear Lewis Biele present the topic, "Many, Yet One."

Financial Topic
 The New Paltz Endeavorers were addressed by Herman Glantz at Sunday evening's meeting on the subject of "A Christian and His Money." The correspondent reports an exceptionally interest-ing meeting despite poor weather conditions. This group plans a Valentine party.

Birthday Party
 Sunday evening at the Albany Ave. Baptist Christian Endeavor session, the newly elected president, Francis Skerritt, had charge of a birthday party in observance of the CE anniversary. The program began with Anna Mae Decker speaking on "The Christian Endeavor Yesterday." Throughout her talk Miss Decker depicted the routine work of the Wurts Street Baptist Society and gave specific examples of how her society planned activities. Before concluding her address, the speaker stated that the members today believe that in past years the society was more or less a cut and dried affair with no real interest in research being done. However, she explained emphatically that the society, which she ad-justed as much recreation and other activities as that of today. Nelson Lewis, County Union vice president, spoke on "Our Christian Endeavor Pledge." In his talk the county leader gave the real meaning of the pledge and continued to outline its value and specific foundation. Next on the program was a solo by Harold Canfield accompanied by Elizabeth Heaps at the piano. Following an announce-ment period, cocoa and cake were served to all present. The cake, made possible through the coop-eration of Ruth Koonz, had on it the CE monogram and the dates 1881-1938. According to the program committee, next Sunday's meeting will be composed of a topic discussion on "What Do You Know About The Bible," and the leader will be Ruth Koonz. At this week's meeting Alice Hunter, chairman of the Lookout Commit-tee, informed all present that a contest to bring in new members would start next week. This contest will feature the boys against the girls and the respective cap-tains are Edith Jacob and Francis Skerritt. The contest will run for two months and the team having the most points following the deadline in April, will be given a present by the losing aggregation. According to Miss Hunter, a plea to all old members who haven't been out to past meetings and all interested in the organization has been made, and it is hoped that in the forthcoming Sunday even-ing meetings a larger turnout will be on hand.

Uncle Sam is an increasingly popular employer, civil service commission records show. The commission's business has tripled in some lines since 1932. Ap-plications for jobs have increased from 221,494 in 1932 to 934,069 in 1937.

In Great Style
 By MARY GRHAM BONNER

RIP drew up in Quackville with the express cart in which Mrs. Quacko was proudly perched. Mrs. Quacko was looking over her shoulder at the man who was driving the cart and came wading over to meet her, but she was so im-pressed that she could hardly speak. "Mrs. Quacko," she barked, "just give me your right webbed foot and I'll help you out. There, rest a wing on me. Now you're all right. These carriages always need a coachman and footman to accompany them, but a dogman is equal to both."

"Now, Mrs. Quacko, what time shall I return for you?"
 "Do not bother to return for me," said Mrs. Quacko, who knew Rip really wanted to gather kind-ling for Willy Nilly. It would not be so stylish if she had to drive home on top of a pile of wood.

"No," she continued, "do not bother to return for me. I feel the little waddling walk home will be good for me. I need that much duck exercise."
 Mrs. Quacko was very much im-pressed as Mrs. Quacko meant she should be "Very well," barked Rip, "if that is your wish, so it will be." He ran off, pulling the express cart after him.

"Well, my dear, it is simply a duck age since I've seen you," quacked Mrs. Quacko as she and Mrs. Quacko snatched beaks. "My, this is quite a party." She looked around and saw that Mrs. Quacko had invited a good many ducks.
 "Oh, just a few friends," quacked Mrs. Quacko. "Let me get you a cup of duck water tea. I use the pressed leaves which I saved in the summer. You'll find it makes good tea, I think."

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchitis, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Ulster County 4-H Members Receive State's Awards

Howard Limbacher of Sawkill, a ninth year Ulster county member, was the State 4-H boy winner and Leslie Clinton, a Channing county 4-H Club member, was State 4-H girl winner of the 4-H awards given by the American Agriculturalists. Those who are given by the American Agriculturalists each year to the boy and girl in club work whose achievements for the term of club membership have been outstanding.

Mr. Howard and Miss Clinton will receive the awards from the hands of Governor Lehman at the Master Farmer 4-H Banquet, in Ithaca on February 17 in behalf of the 28,000 4-H members in New York state.

Howard is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Limbacher of Sawkill. Mrs. Limbacher is one of Ulster county's outstanding 4-H Club leaders. During Howard's term of club membership he has carried the garden project for nine years, dairy project for seven years, raspberry project for four years, strawberry project for four years, Agricultural Engineering project for two years, forestry project, two years, and bee project for one year, a total of 29 project years of work.

Besides working with his project, he has won many noteworthy achievements. In 1930 when he first joined the 4-H Club, he was secretary of the Sawkill 4-H Garden Club, member of the play cast, "Whim! Pa," and exhibited and won $250 at the county fair; in 1931 he was elected song and cheer leader, attended County 4-H Camps, was a member of the play cast, "One Hectic Night," member of Sawkill garden judging team, which took first prize, made nine exhibits at county fair and won $12.75, was winner of Merit Certificate for Proficiency in Calf Club Work.

In 1932, he was elected corresponding secretary, winner of garden map contest, attended two 4-H camps, entered National Dairy Story Contest, made eight exhibits at county fair and won $11.75. And still continuing his work in 1933, he was elected president of his club, attended two camps, cabin leader at both camps, elected leader of Farm Shop Club, broadcasted over WGY, Schenectady, made three exhibits at County Field Day and awarded $17.

Again in 1931 he forged on by again being elected president of the 4-H Club in his community, attended two camps, assistant cook for two camps, cabin leader for two camps, attended Holstein Banquet, second in dairy showmanship, awarded a calf for showmanship, assisted with recreation at the County Round-Up, alternate to State Fair, presiding officer of District Achievement Day, made 10 exhibits at District Achievement Day and won awards, member of the play cast of "Elmer," assisted in putting on Forestry Booth at County Round-Up and acted as local leader of a club of boys.

In 1935 Howard was assistant local leader of the Sawkill Community Club, attended six 4-H Club Camps and acted as assistant cook, member of the play cast, "Not Quite Such a Goose", broadcasted play over station WESG, chosen member of Ulster

County Judging Team to participate in contests at the Vegetable Growers meeting at Albany, New York, and won sixth place, chosen as a member of County Vegetable Judging team to judge at National Vegetable Show at Hartford, Connecticut, here again he won sixth place, attended State Club Congress to give the play, "Not Quite Such a Goose", attended Holstein Club banquet, exhibited and won $51 at county fair, attended State Fair as Ulster county's delegate, again he represented Ulster county on the Vegetable Judging team.

In 1936, he was local leader of the 4-H boys in Sawkill, a member of the play cast, "His First Shave", won first and second places in Vegetable Judging and Identification contests at State Club Congress, member of garden and dairy judging teams, attended State Fair and judged vegetables and cattle, put on booth demonstration on "Storage of Winter Vegetables", was State 4-H Club adolescent winner, and this past year he still is reaching for higher achievements.

by being a member of the Ulster County Vegetable Judging team which placed first at the State Fair and sixth at the National Vegetable Contest at New York city. Howard's achievements are all due to the fact that he has pledged, "Make the Best Better", in his club work.

This is the first year that any one of Ulster county's members has received this honor. Leslie Clinton, the other 4-H winner, was the State 4-H Girls' Record winner last fall and was awarded a trip to Chicago and one of the National Sectional Scholarship awards. One Ulster County 4-H Club member, Helen Churchwell, of Ulster Park, was alternate to Leslie Clinton in Girls' Record Contest.

"I don't even shake hands with them any more," a local man declared, referring to certain ones with whom he refused to be associated. "I'd be afraid I wouldn't get my fingers back," he concluded.

For a Finishing Touch
There's no accounting for desire. For instance—every pool I've seen for years has made me wish I had one—calm and cool.

So last spring saw me realize the greatest of my wishes. A pool right in my own back yard, with lilies—and gold fish.

But it bred huge mosquitoes—and from neighbors came a wall.

Now, frogs—by millions—mar their sleep. They threaten me with fall.

If things don't change I'll lose my mind. A tranquil pool?—How silly—

I fear that mine will soon put me where I'll need—just a livv.

—Lyla Myers.

Cleveland—How's your wife, Franklin?

Franklin—Not so well, old boy. She's just had quinsy.

Cleveland—Gosh! How many is that you've got now?

Read it or Not Statistics show that in 1932, $9,000,000,000 in taxes were paid by the people of this country. This was 21 per cent of the national income as against 12 per cent paid in 1931.

A passenger in an airplane was far up in the sky when the pilot began to laugh hysterically.

Passenger—What's the joke?

Pilot—I'm thinking of what they'll say at the asylum when they find out I've escaped.

The girl of today is as good as the one of forty years ago—provided she isn't the same girl.

Teacher—Can't you name even one product exported from Cuba?

Where do you get your sugar?

Pert Paul—From the neighbors, mostly.

Old Friends Are Best
It's always stimulating to make new friends. It's true. But don't neglect the old ones who've stood so long by you. When troubles overtake you, as troubles sometimes do, you'll find the time-tried old friends are there before the new.

First Young Hubby—Gosh! What a jump I've got on my head. My wife and I had our first argument and she socked me on the head with a pie pan.

Second Young Hubby—Say, how could she do that much damage with a pie pan?

First Young Hubby—It had one of her pies in it.

It's a smart man who has never let a woman pin anything on him since he was an infant.

Harold—What did Fanny do when Alfred broke off their engagement?

Edith—Oh, she just flung her engagement ring on to her right hand and walked out.

Every school boy learns two languages—the one he learns at school and the one he hears at home.

The old time music has some popularity today because in such case it is supposed to have some semblance to a tune.

A Kingston woman doesn't believe in the Bible any more. She says, for instance, that if there was anything to that statement about the meek inheriting the earth, her husband would own the entire state of New York and part of New Jersey.

Doctor—I don't like to mention it, but that check you gave me has come back.

Patient—Well, that sure is funny. Doctor, so did my lumbago.

HOLLYWOOD Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The alleged "discoveries" of any screen star are myriad. Those who claim credit for first unearthing the talents of such as Chaplin, Shirley Temple, or Gable, should be laid end to end.

Here's an instance of how the "Columbus business" works. Ann Rutherford.

Ann's mother, Lucille Mansfield Rutherford, was a film player in the old Biograph days, probably can be credited as Ann's "real discoverer." Ann worked in vaudeville and stock with her parents, later on the radio. Nat Levine (then at Republic) signed her from the air. In a year she played more than a dozen leads, had to take a rest. The short "Anne Laurie" was next, the lead in "The Devil Is Driving," and another short, "Carnival in Paris."

Jack Chertok, Metro's short producer, was her second Columbus. Producer John Considine, looking for a girl for "Benefits Forged," saw Ann's "Carnival in Paris." Simultaneously, Director Clarence Brown saw her lunching in the commissary, selected her as his choice.

"I've found the girl we need," he told Considine.

"So have I," Considine told Brown.

So Ann Rutherford has four—at least four—discoverers. Levine (now at Metro), Chertok, Considine, Brown.

Old Inn Party
A dignified hostess, peering perhaps amazedly through its protective palms at the smart-aleck rumble and roar of Hollywood boulevard, was 35 years old the other night. By coincidence, the Warner Bros. film, "Hollywood Hotel," told after the air show and indirectly after Hollywood's oldest inn, was ready for release.

Parties have been given for much less reason, and those sentimental Warners are not ones to let a 35th birthday go uncelebrated—especially in these days of nation-wide hook-ups.

It was a very nice party, particularly because it brought the old-timers out in force. Flora Finch, and Jean Herschell, and Donald Crisp—two to whom the talkies have been most kind—and Bryant Washburn, Herbert Rawlinson, Jean Acker.

New Generation
But among the younger guests, and perhaps among the old-timers too, there was more interest in Olivia de Havilland, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell, Marie Wilson, Rudy Vallee.

The movie generations met friendly—and parted, the evening passing with no somber reflections (spoken at least) on the quick passing of time.

West Shokan School Notes

West Shokan, eb. 9.—The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the month of January at the local school. Dorothy Dwyer, Margaret Wagner, Charles Harrison, Warren Hyde, Arthur Smith. Of the above names these had a perfect attendance record for the half-year: Charles Harrison, Warren Hyde, Arthur Smith.

The honor roll members were: Louise Colange, Margaret Wagner, Helen Harrison, Harry North, Arthur Smith, William Wagner.

The names of Louise Colange, Louzette Schmoekel, Margaret Wagner were recorded on the health roll.

Those putting forth best efforts for the month were: Margaret Wagner, Harry North, Arthur Smith. The above mentioned children were in charge of the Visual Education Equipment which made its bi-weekly round on Friday.

At the "Junior Town" Citizen Club meeting held Friday at the schoolhouse, the following officers were elected for the month of February: Margaret Wagner, supervisor; Harry North, clerk; Arthur Smith, collector; Charles Harrison, health officer; Dorothy Dwyer, superintendent; William Wagner, constable; Helen Harrison, judge. The club was host to a former member, a few parents, and a friend. Luscious refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

The pupils of the lower grades are building a grocery store to take care of some needed review. Margaret Wagner and Helen Harrison on behalf of the other members of their school, last Wednesday, presented the Ladies Aid Society with a pillow which the children stuffed with balsam from the Christmas tree which was used in their entertainment at Christmas time. The gift was gratefully received by the society and shall be placed on sale at the church fair with many other articles next summer.

The pupils are planning on a great party to celebrate the Saint of Hearts (Valentine) on February 14. Everyone during spare time is busy making Valentines for the Valentine box which will be opened at the party.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Karm to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up in your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A more borel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Happiness, gentleness, and amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 50c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

3 Major Problems Discussed at Club

Frank W. Mason of Saugerties, popular speaker among Kingston club circles was again greeted with enthusiasm last evening as he addressed the members of the Kingston College Women's Club at their regular monthly meeting. Mr. Mason appeared under the auspices of the Panel Group of the club and was introduced by Miss May Quimby, the chairman.

Mr. Mason divided his address into a discussion of three major topics of the day, stating his viewpoints and giving both sides of the questions, leaving openings for discussion by the group following his talk. The three topics were: "Congressional Actions," "Foreign Relations," and "The Domestic Situation."

In his discussion of "Congressional Actions," he began by reviewing the first ways of voting for a congressman as compared to the present methods and asked the question, "How can a man serve the area which sends him when all the people in that area are of different minds and don't know themselves what they want?" In his opinion the meeting of Congress in December was a good idea because it completed bills which would otherwise have been delayed until the regular session.

Major Bills

The three major bills before Congress today which were discussed were the Anti-Lynching Bill, the Housing Bill, and the Farm Bill. The Anti-Lynching Bill calls for a cessation of lynching in the south. It is not so important how cessation is brought about as that it is brought about, he said. Mr. Mason felt that the factors not strong enough to kill the bill will put pressure on the South and cause them to take measures. Already, he said, two southern states have passed their own laws because they don't want the Yankees up north to tell them what to do.

The Housing Bill, as it was finally passed, provides for a type of housing which will not reach the group which needs housing the most in this country. However, Mr. Mason was of the opinion that if the housing furnishes better homes for the next to the important group of renters, they will move and leave the lower group their places, thus affecting the lower group indirectly.

In regard to the Farm Bill, the speaker said that no one really knows much about it. The bill is the result of a pressure group and a peculiar form of tariff. "I predict a stormy period ahead," he said.

The speaker introduced his discussion of foreign relations by asking, "Are the people neutral?" and replied by explaining the general sympathy of the American people toward the Loyalists of Spain, the passing of the Neutrality Act, and their unwillingness to apply the act to China for fear of hurting her.

In discussing America's attitude toward defending its own interests, he said there were four viewpoints. First, is the opinion that investments and all invested interests in foreign countries should be protected by war, if necessary. Second, the industrial empire should be protected but investors in foreign countries should sustain the risks. Third, just the continental boundaries should be protected, and last, the most sincere and most ultra pacifist alternative is that neither boundaries, foreign interest or the empire, should be protected.

"What is our attitude toward armament?" he asked, "if we are of the first opinion, we must be willing to increase our armament."

Parent-Teacher Association

Woodstock.

Woodstock, Feb. 9.—A meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Founder's Day, February 17. Miss Neva Shults is expected to repeat the lesson on pneumonia control which proved so interesting to Home Bureau members last month. If Miss Shults is unable to take time from her work, her report will be given by someone else. The rest of the program will be devoted to the school rhythm band and other entertainment provided by the children.

Woodstock school children were surprised on Friday afternoon by a double feature entertainment. At 2:30 o'clock they were dismissed from classes to attend movies by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd and a talk provided by the Parent-Teacher Association. The movies were "Sculpture Through the Ages" and a pictorial description of the making of crackers. The sculpture picture included descriptions of soap sculpture.

Following the movie Judson Phillips spoke to the children on "An Individual Art Sense," explaining with amusing dialect stories that what really matters in the appreciation of pictures is the individual's reaction to them. "What you think about a painting," he told the children, "should be more important to you than what other people think." This talk was arranged by a committee appointed at one of the first meetings of the P.-T. A. this season. It will be followed by other talks by Woodstockers, particularly on hobbies in which the school children are interested. A speaker on stamp collecting is to be arranged for at an early date.

HOME BUREAU

Woodstock.

Woodstock, Feb. 9.—The Woodstock Home Bureau discussion group met on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Besse Cohn. The next meeting will be on March 7. Monday's meeting was led by Miss Florence Webster and a report given by Mrs. Ivan Summers. The report for the next meeting will be given by Mrs. Besse Cohn.

Home Institute ENTERTAIN WITH LIVELY TAPS; TEACH YOURSELF AT HOME

Will Bess be a dud at the party tomorrow night? Not she. She's taught herself to tap—and when she clicks into the Shuffle Off to Buffalo, all heads will turn her way.

Who'd guess that her lively dance is based on six simple tap sounds which anyone could learn in one evening from diagrams? But it is! And when you've learned these six you have the groundwork for any kind of tap routine.

At once you start to combine them in interesting ways. See what fun—and how easy—this Shuffle Off to Buffalo combination is!

On Count 4, you hop on the left foot. On the short notes AND and AH, you front tap with right foot, Back Tap with right foot. Now on 1, you jump to right foot, raise left foot in front of right ankle with knee turned out to left.

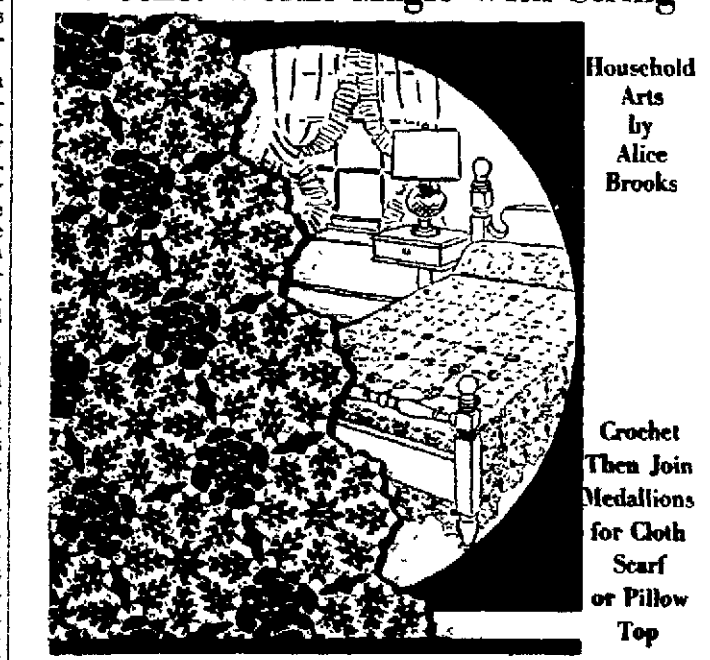

The Front and Back Taps? Swing the leg forward and backward—from the knee. Let the ball of the foot strike the floor sharply with each forward and backward swing.

Complete directions are given in our 40-page booklet, SELF-INSTRUCTION IN TAP DANCING. Diagrams show how to count, place your feet, swing into the lively waltz clog, buck and military routines which make you a hit.

Send 15c for our booklet, SELF-INSTRUCTION IN TAP DANCING, to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 14th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Boy Scout Week For Woodstockers

Woodstock, Feb. 9.—Boy Scout week in Woodstock opened with a Scout Service in the Reformed Church on Sunday, February 6, when a large number of Scouts were present. An appropriate sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, who is also Scout Master. The Scouts repeated their oath as part of the service. Special music was provided for the occasion.

The Woodstock troop is exhibiting handicraft and hobbies in local store windows this week, through the courtesy of the merchants.

Other activities of the local Scouts during the week will include an anniversary party in the Reformed Church basement and the carrying out of the scouts' community good turn.

Battle of Trailers at Municipal Auditorium With Locals Anxious

COLONIALS 1 UP

Colonials Hope to Repeat as Superiors to Brooklynites to Keep Out of American League Cellar.

Frank Morgenweck's Colonials will try to make the basketball net week by the Philadelphia Hevies when they tackle the Brooklyn Visitations tonight in the municipal auditorium.

Since their shellacking at home the hands of the Spas, prospective pennant winners, the Morgenweckers perked up Sunday taking the Vissies over Sunday at the New York Hippodrome by two points, 29-27, causing President John J. O'Brien to remark that "Kingston is a much improved team."

Tonight's game could be called the "battle of the trailers," statistics showing the Visitations right down in the American League cellar with a percentage of .250 and the Colonials one step above them with .333.

Morgenweck will urge his players in their fight, to keep them from slipping farther down the staircase to bump themselves out of sight of the paying customers who have supported the club remarkably well despite its slump.

Kingston has lost four games out of six so far in the league competition for the second half, the Vissie have dropped three out of four.

O'Brien's official statistics show Phil Rabin, Kingston's star guard, led in leading scoring role for the second half by Cy Kasel, with 23 points. Rabin, however, is out on front for the total of the first and second half with 32 points. His nearest rival was Joe Spain of the Jersey Reds with 21.

Indian Villages Formed

When Tribes Were at War
In olden days, when most of the Indian tribes were at war, villages were pitched in a horseshoe formation for protection.

The pitching of the teepees was the work of the men of the tribe, but the Indian women judged by eye the distance between teepees. It was invariably the same, so true was their judgment, states a writer in the Washington Star.

In the center of the horseshoe of tents three sacred teepees, for ceremonial and religious events, were placed. One of these belonged to the medicine man of the tribe. It was decorated with symbolic and sacred signs. No one was allowed to enter the medicine man's teepee or lodge without invitation.

These Dogs Have Won "Best-In-Show" Awards

By the AP Feature Service.
Yipping and fretting and snuttling, aristocratic noggies perched at a snooty angle, Dogdom's blue-blooded Ch.s compete in Madison Square Garden February 10-12 for the grand title, King Canine LXII. It's the Westminster Kennel Club's 62nd annual show and Westminster's "best-in-show" award kites a dog's pedigree sky-high. Ch.s, those who've toured the dog circuit and are champions in their own right, will be a dime a dozen. A foreign-bred probably will win. Every victor since 1925 has come from abroad. The "best-in-show" is selected from the six winners in the working, sporting, toy, terrier, non-sporting and sporting dog—hounds.

Morgenweck will urge his players in their fight, to keep them from slipping farther down the staircase to bump themselves out of sight of the paying customers who have supported the club remarkably well despite its slump.

It was decorated with symbolic and sacred signs. No one was allowed to enter the medicine man's teepee or lodge without invitation.

Other teepees in the village were decorated with animal signs. If an Indian at some time received help from an animal friend, he was ever after entitled to decorate his home with the likeness of that animal and was allowed to be considered under its protection.

When a hunting party was ready to go out for food, the medicine man sent special "medicine" for luck, to the best two hunters of the tribe. It was composed of roots and red clay paint mixed together in a small medicine bag, and with it the hunters painted clay images of the animals they wished to kill for food.

Often in hunting certain animals the hunters wore masks resembling their prey as decoys. The weather lay covered with leaves near a water hole where the animal might come, leaving only the mask exposed.

Ullster Co. Trap League Shoots at Saugerties Sunday

The initial shoot of the Ullster County Trapshooting League will take place at the Saugerties Rod and Gun Club range, Saugerties, Sunday afternoon, February 13, at 1 o'clock.

The present members of the league, the gun clubs from Saugerties, New Paltz and Kingston, are expected to have large delegations of 16-year shooters at this event. The program is in the form of a sweepstakes shoot. Gunners are to be divided into three classes, according to their averages, and awards will be given for first and second place in each class. There will also be a high gun prize for the day.

Interest in 16-year trapshooting has increased in the last few months and it is the purpose of this alliance to further stimulate this interest. Old-timers of the league are expected to turn out in large numbers at the Saugerties shoot Sunday. It is the intention of the league to shoot on succeeding Sundays at each of the member clubs. The next shoot is scheduled for the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club on February 20.

Trapshooters of the county, regardless of whether or not they are affiliated with the clubs in the league, are invited to take part in these shoots.

Temple U. Sweeps Into College Lead

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Only Pittsburgh remains in the way of the high-flying Owls of Temple in the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference race and the Panthers stalk the Owls—or vice versa—tonight.

Temple walloped Penn State, the early season leader in the conference, last night, 49 to 39 and swept into undisputed possession of first place. The teams were tied for the lead before the game. Pitt, tied for second with state, now will challenge Temple's leadership at Pittsburgh tonight and if they can't stop the Owls, no other team will make a race of it for some time.

Gehrig Demands $41,400 a Year, But He'll Soften Ruppert Thinks

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Lou Gehrig is planted on his front porch up at New Rochelle, swearing by all that's Hollywood that he won't sign with the Yankees for a cent less than $41,400—but you know that he will, eventually.

Unfortunately for Lou's financial dream, even Colonel Jake Ruppert, his boss, knows you couldn't keep the "iron horse" off first base with a restraining order unless the Yankees start after their third straight world championship.

For Lou, who will be 35 next June, loves to play baseball, and he still can play it better than almost anybody, including his illustrious young teammate, Joe DiMaggio. Also he still was ahead a few of those $26,000 seasons like Colonel Ruppert offered him as a renewal of his 1937 contract, and that's good money when the average bank isn't advertising for a president.

He said, after butting heads with Ruppert yesterday, that he wouldn't even go to Florida next month unless the colonel came through, but nobody believed him.

"This guy has played 1,265 straight games up to now," said someone aside, "and I'd like to see anybody keep him from making it 2,000 without using a gun."

A Real Vet
Looking at Lou, it's difficult to realize he's been around the big time for 13 seasons and has seen nearly a whole generation of players come and go. Almost all those who were drawing their checks the day Gehrig took over from Wally Pipp in 1925 are gone, yet Lou has shown no sign of slowing up.

With the shower of publicity that surrounded DiMaggio last season, it probably will surprise some to know that Gehrig led the Yankees at bat with an average of .251. Also that, for the seventh year, he knocked in more than 150 runs, beating Ruth's record of six years.

For 12 straight years he has scored over 100 runs, tying Ruth's record, and for eight years Gehrig has collected more than 200 hits, leaving him only one year behind Ty Cobb's mark.

Bock, Maines and Rowland Are Among 10 Leading DUSO Scorers

Kingston High School's Charley Bock, one of the most prolific scorers the DUSO Basketball League has ever seen, leads the scorers of that loop with a total of 77 points for six games, and two of his teammates, Clarence Rowland and Tommy Maines, are listed with him among the 10 highest scorers of the circuit.

Bock in his six games has scored 32 fields and 11 fouls for that grand 77 to top his nearest rival, Ed Pilus, lanky Newburgh center, by 11 points. Pilus has 66. Benton of Liberty is third with 63. Rowland, who became ineligible by graduation in January, Speiser, MI 6 47 4 28

March Track Meet In Madison Square

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Columbia will defend its I. C. 4-A indoor track and field championship against about 32 other college squads at Madison Square Garden March 5. Notice of the close of entries on February 18 has been sent to the 46 members of the Intercollegiate A. A. A.

The above quartet will defend on February 20 the Woodstock Cup won by Woodstock in 1932. The trophy is symbolic of the four-man toboggan championship for Ulster county. With the exception of "Sonny" Longyear, who replaced Frank Berringer, the team above is the same which won the first of the necessary three legs for permanent possession of the cup. The team, left to right, is: Harold Shultis, "Sonny" Longyear, Willard Wolven and Donald Jackson, captain.

Woodstock, Feb. 9—A fresh snowfall is required in the Woodstock area before the Ulster county toboggan championship race can be run off. Directors of the Woodstock Winter Sports Association have postponed the race from the original date, February 13 to February 20.

Several entries for the race on the Ohio Mountain slide have been received from clubs in various parts of Ulster county who plan to wrest the championship trophy from the present custodians, the Woodstock team captained by Don Jackson.

The variable weather has not interfered with the open air hockey games so far. Last Sunday Woodstock defeated the Saugerties Junior Varsity team 1-0, scoring in the last few seconds of the third period.

A double-header hockey match is scheduled for next Sunday, one game between the Newburgh Twin Oaks and the Saugerties Roamers, and the other between Woodstock and Palenville.

Fullers Bow To Hercules in City League Playoff, 31-49

Starting with only four men, the Fuller quintet bowed to Hercules in the playoff for the first half championship in the Industrial Division of the City Basketball League Tuesday night, and if it were not for Eddie Bock's sensational 18 points, the Shirkmatters might have suffered an even more ignominious defeat than the 31-49 final windup.

In the other games, Forests defeated Central Hudson, 26-24, and the Knights of Columbus triumphed the Jewish Youth Alliance, 22-13.

Dizzy Anxious To Make Peace

Bradenton, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—Dizzy Dean broke his unaccustomed silence today to indicate that he was anxious to smoke the pipe of peace with officials of the St. Louis Cardinals—to the tune of a $20,000 contract.

That amount would represent a $5,500 reduction from the salary the hurler said he received in 1937, and is just $10,000 more than the Cards are reported to have offered.

The right-hander had his worst season last year, winning 11 and losing nine games.

James Whitcomb Riley was an itinerant sign-painter, entertainer, and assistant to patent medicine vendors before he began publishing verses.

Ullster Co. Trap League Shoots at Saugerties Sunday

The initial shoot of the Ullster County Trapshooting League will take place at the Saugerties Rod and Gun Club range, Saugerties, Sunday afternoon, February 13, at 1 o'clock.

The present members of the league, the gun clubs from Saugerties, New Paltz and Kingston, are expected to have large delegations of 16-year shooters at this event. The program is in the form of a sweepstakes shoot. Gunners are to be divided into three classes, according to their averages, and awards will be given for first and second place in each class. There will also be a high gun prize for the day.

Interest in 16-year trapshooting has increased in the last few months and it is the purpose of this alliance to further stimulate this interest. Old-timers of the league are expected to turn out in large numbers at the Saugerties shoot Sunday. It is the intention of the league to shoot on succeeding Sundays at each of the member clubs. The next shoot is scheduled for the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club on February 20.

Trapshooters of the county, regardless of whether or not they are affiliated with the clubs in the league, are invited to take part in these shoots.

Kerhonkson Union School Notes

As part of the 9th year General Science Course, Mr. Braun, who is an instructor in First Aid for the American Red Cross, will give a course to both classes in First Aid to the Injured at Kerhonkson High School. This was begun last year and proved very popular as well as instructive. Now that the warmer weather is approaching, the class in General Biology is looking forward to collecting specimens for the classroom museum.

According to a recent estimate inefficient reading is responsible for 60 per cent of all failures in school. The Board of Education of the Kerhonkson Union School upon the recommendation of George W. Norvell, state supervisor of English, has appropriated a sum to be used for the purchase of supplementary materials. Mrs. Traver will teach a course twice a week in Remedial Reading to those students who are quite low in comprehension and rate.

The topic for discussion in next week's homeroom programs is "How to Study," according to Miss Madeline M. Sniffen, chairman of the Homeroom committee. This unit will include "Budgeting Your Time," "How to Get the Most Out of Your Study Hours," "Conditions of Study," "Methods of Study" and a list of rules for effective study. It has been found that many pupils are under the impression that merely reading is studying and the committee hopes that this instruction will result in better scholarship.

According to Miss Vivian White, the Economic Geography class has secured permission to visit the Institution for Defective Delinquents at Nanuet. The class will make the trip some time next week. In William Anderson's school bus.

Arthur C. Chipp has been appointed advisor of the Junior Police Organization. This group directs intra-mural traffic and is assigned to duty during basketball games and general school affairs. Members are Stanley Decker, chief, Philip Decker, Philip Gray, Harold Hendrickson, Earl Booth, Bob Lacy, Dan Kaiser, Percy Green, Richard Lane, Henry Feinberg, Irene Enderley.

The Kerhonkson school orchestra has been approved by the state department, according to the communication received recently from Russell Carter, state supervisor of music. Students are thus able to secure high school credit for orchestra due to the fact that the school now has a fully accredited music instructor, Gordon Sealey.

THRIFTY FORD V-8 AVERAGES "60" 28.85 MILES PER GALLON!

Above: The prize-winning Thrifty "60" Ford V-8 entering the gateway of beautiful Yosemite National Park during the Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run.

Below: Checking the gasoline at the end of the run... only 10.9 gallons for the entire trip of 314.5 miles... an average of 28.85 miles per gallon.

Right: Officials presenting the cup to owner and driver of the record-making Ford V-8.

If you're looking for proof of Ford V-8 gasoline economy, here it is in black and white—

Leads All Cars at Its Price and Above by Setting Miles-Per-Gallon Record in Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run!

COMPETING in this year's Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run, held under strict A.A.A. supervision, a stock 1938 Thrifty "60" Ford V-8 Sedan made an average of 28.85 miles per gallon of gasoline! In hanging up this record, the Ford V-8 not only won first place in its price class, but also made the best miles-per-gallon showing of 23 cars, comprising all entrants at its price or above! Only 10.9 gallons of gasoline were used for the entire 314.5-mile run.

This sensational record bears out the experience of hundreds of owners who have reported 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline with the Thrifty "60" Ford V-8 in every day use. In dramatic fashion it proves again that here is the most economical Ford V-8 ever built—and one of the thriftiest cars on the road today, regardless of price! Your Ford Dealer invites you to see and drive the smarter, more luxurious 1938 edition of this great economy car.
